REICHSTAG ACTS Adopts Stresemann's Reform Bill; Wide Authority Given Chancellor.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Duesseldorf.—Duesseldorf was thrown into a state of anarchy today by throngs of desperate unemployed workers who during the early morning hours began a campaign of systematic plundering.

The pillaging started in the suburb of Aberling during the night and spread to various parts of the city when the plunderers found themselves virtually unopposed.

AUTHORIZATION BILL IS PASSED BY REICHSTAG
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Berlin.—The Reichstag this afternoon adopted Chancellor Stresemann's authorization bill giving him wide authority in dictating measures for economic reform. The bill was passed by a vote of 318 to 24 with seven members abstaining from voting.

President Ebert on Thursday gave Chancellor Stresemann authority to dissolve the Reichstag if the authorization bill did not pass, and to carry out substitutionary measures by decree, independent of the parliament. The bill required two thirds majority.

BELGIAN GOVERNMENT URGES PLAN REFERENCE
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Brussels.—The Belgian government has invited the French, British and Italian governments to refer to the interallied reparations commission the Belgian reparations plan submitted to the allied governments on Friday last.

The commission on a basis for a concrete plan of German reparations in the impending negotiations.

It is officially stated that the allied governments have acceded to the Belgian proposal and the reparations commission will undertake a study of the Belgian suggestions.

MEYER'S CAR ORDERED SOLD
Judge H. L. Mayfield has ordered the car of Otto Meyer sold for sale at public auction by the sheriff. No date has been set for the sale.

Meyer was sentenced to 18 months in prison on charges of embezzlement and the sentence was then suspended and he was placed under the state board of control. The car was last seen on the street in a similar case a week ago and the sale of this is due to be held some day next week.

PIERSON GOING TO BAPTIST CONVENTION
The Rev. R. G. Pierson, first Baptist church here, leaves the city Monday for LaCrosse where he will attend the Wisconsin Baptist state convention which opens there Monday night and continues until Thursday.

Mr. Pierson will return Wednesday as he is to officiate at a wedding in the city on that day.

Financial Loss
is not only reckoned by actual failure in money dealings. The reverse of the old adage "a penny saved is a penny earned" is also true. One who willfully throws away a chance to make money is a reckless spender.

Now is the time when apples are selling very well indeed. If you have apples to sell, take advantage of the opportunity to make a little money. A man who allows apples to rot on the ground is suffering a financial loss as truly as the man who stakes his fortune in a losing speculation.

Mr. Jas. R. of Footville has been in making use of all his fruit and in selling apples at a profit. He mailed the following ad to Mary Brown.

SNOWAPPLES
$1.75 PER BUSHEL. Baking and cooking apples. Order from Sweet cider. Order Tallman sweets and winter apples now. J. Blank, Jr., Footville phone blank, or call Janesville phone blank.

The little ad ran only one day and Mr. R. has sixty bushels of apples. Orders are still coming in. Or do you wonder that he is well pleased and glad to recommend the Gazette and its page as a very quick, efficient and inexpensive medium of sale?

If you have either or apples you can't afford to take a chance on losing $10 when a little inexpensive want ad will carry your message to 11,000 homes. Advertise now and join the list of satisfied Gazette-Ad employees.

PHONE 2500
Mary Brown will help you word the ad that will sell your wares.

LABOR DELEGATES REFLECT COMPERS FEDERATION HEAD

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Portland, Ore.—Delegates to the 43rd annual convention of the American Federation of Labor which adjourned yesterday, were scattering to all parts of the country today, though the federation's headquarters, established here temporarily, will not pull up stakes until late today, as a mass of official matters remained to be cleared up.

President Samuel Gompers, re-elected at the closing session, delivered in his concluding address that the convention had given notice that there was no place in organized labor for those disloyal to its principles and who, by baring with within, aided its destruction.

The members of the executive council, who were re-elected, plan to spend several days in San Francisco.

BELIEVE CREW OF OIL SHIP LOST AT SEA
Key West, Fla.—Search for the life boats began after the City of Everett flashed an S. O. S. call and stated she was sinking had been abandoned last night with the exception that the coast guard cutter Saito has been ordered to make a further search. The opinion here was that the attempt of the crew to launch the life boats in the heavy seas proved unsuccessful and that all of the members perished shortly after the last call for help was sent out.

2 Walton Advisers Ousted

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Oklahoma City, Okla.—Governor Walton cast aside two of his lieutenants in the administration of Oklahoma affairs.

With a legislative impeachment court already investigating his official conduct, the governor threw a veritable bombshell into the ranks of followers of the situation last night when he ordered the removal from office of Aldrich Blake, executive counselor, and Dr. E. T. Bynum, state bank commissioner, both of whom, since the days of the primary campaign, have been his chief advisers and constant attendants.

The two ousted officials went immediately before the house committee investigating into impeachment charges against the governor and while the nature of their testimony was not made public, their appearance before the body was accepted as sufficient indication that their break with Governor Walton was absolute.

Dr. Bynum has administered his office unsatisfactorily, the governor charged, and is out of harmony with the executive office. There was no explanation given for Blake's removal.

A statement declaring that "the man fight must go on" and that he was "glad to be free to continue the fight unhampered" was issued today by Blake.

Elkhorn.—In the same courtroom where little more than 18 months ago was enacted the final chapter in the "Mystery of Kirsche Creek," Adolph Eckman, Sharon farmer, will be placed on trial charged with the murder of Carl Fritz, Elkhorn county farmer, who was shot to death at the Eckman farm home July 15.

Selection of a jury to hear the evidence and decide whether the Walworth county farmer shall go to prison or be freed, will start Monday morning after the Walworth county circuit court calendar is called by Judge L. B. Belden, Racine.

Dist. Atty. Godfrey in Charge
Directing the prosecution will be District Attorney Alfred Godfrey, Elkhorn, who took office in January and has twice been called upon to see that justice was served in capital offenses. Extending all their efforts to secure the freedom of Eckman will be his attorneys, E. L. Von Suesse.

VETERAN ST. PAUL CONDUCTOR KILLED UNDERNEATH TRAIN

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE] Edgerton.—Slipping between freight cars as he was uncoupling them, John Crummy, 58, Madison, a conductor for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, was killed here tonight in a fatal accident.

His body was found by the brakeman beneath one of the cars, cut in two. No one heard Crummy make an outcry and it is believed he was instantly killed.

The accident occurred about 10 rods from the freight office, where switching was being done by the train, the engineer on which is D. C. Madison, who has been his chief adviser and constant attendant.

Crummy is survived by a wife and two daughters, one in the University of Wisconsin and the other attending high school. For years he was conductor of a passenger train running between Milwaukee and Prairie du Chien, and but recently took charge of a freight train between Madison and Edgerton that he might be at home at night.

The body was taken to Madison.

Killed by Unwitting Blow of Golf Club in Hands of Companion
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Snareville, Ky.—His skull crushed by a blow from a mallet in the hands of a companion on the links, Charles Reed, president of the New Brunswick Republican club and employee of a New York trust company, died last night without regaining consciousness.

It was the first day of a two week holiday Reed was going to devote to learning golf, after having gone without a vacation for several years. And it was his second game. A foursome with Howard Stahlin and two other New Brunswick friends. They were playing at the Marlborough country club without incident. Reed drove off at the third green. As Reed stepped back to pick up his clubs, Stahlin drove with a mallet and struck after his ball. Glancing back, he saw Reed lying unconscious. Stahlin's mallet had caught him over the left ear and he had dropped without a murmur.

GIANTS: Groh, Bancroft, Stengel, Young, Scott, Meusel, Kelly, Snyder, Shawkey.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Polo Grounds, New York.—Back across the muddy Harlem today came the New York Nationals and New York Americans to battle in the fourth game of the 1923 world's series. Awaiting at noon the appearance of the two teams in the field, to struggle for the most crucial of the contests, were between 15,000 and 20,000 fans, who filled the small bleachers and more than half of the reserved seats of the double decked grand stand. Several hundred of them took part in the game of the night when the gates were thrown open the bleachers were quickly filled.

It was the nearest approach to summer weather that had been vouchsafed the series.

The feeling among the fans was more tense than on any other day, for it was believed that if the Giants won today the Yankees would be battling for a lost cause tomorrow. Nick Altrock and Al Schuchman under the fans until a squad of Giants, under the care of Coach Casey Dolan, came on the field about 12:15.

The ball players were about their preparations listlessly and spent most of their time watching the comedians chase the crowd. Where the atmosphere on opening day was gay with anticipation, that of the second day suffocating with listlessness, and that of yesterday charged with the most unbalancing of excitement, that of today was heavy with foreboding. Even when a squad of Yankees came on at 12:30, the fans began to leave the field, the ball with all the appearance of grim determination in their faces. They did not have the elasticity of yesterday nor the enthusiasm of the first day, the greatest honors of the game lay unpicked for the best man in the lap of the gods.

KUF AHL HEARING PUT OVER, OCT. 27
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE] Elkhorn.—After being taken into court to hear the court agree to postponing until Oct. 27, Ernest Kufahl, former serviceman, of District Attorney Alfred L. Godfrey, who is busy preparing for the Adolph Eckman trial which opens Monday.

The proceedings Saturday morning were all over in a few minutes and the crowd mostly women which came to the courthouse after 9 o'clock was brought to the courthouse at 9 o'clock and appeared before Justice Williams. His attorney, W. C. Zabel, Milwaukee, was not present.

Kufahl demurred against the delay in his hearing, apparently having found jail confinement not to his liking, but Judge Williams ordered postponement at 9 a. m., Oct. 27, at the courthouse.

The man is held as an accomplice and accessory before the fact in the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway ploughed through the hard core of the Madison team with the bodies of the cattle and the train was delayed. The cattle had broken through a fence onto the tracks. The loss was placed at over $2,500.

12-0 First Half, J. H. Blues Against University High
Janesville high school eleven led University high school of Madison, 12-0 when the first half closed. A forward pass, Knipp to Bill Austin, netted the first touchdown in the first five minutes of play. Condon failed to kick goal. The Janesville team culminated the Madison team and near the end of the first half scored again after an end run by Knipp had put the ball on the 10-yard line. Capt. Leary went through the line for eight yards and Condon scored. He failed to make the point after the touchdown on a run.

LAW IS ENFORCED
Prohibition Commissioner Tells Some of the Accomplishments of the Year.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE] Washington.—"President Coolidge stands foursquare for enforcement of the prohibition law. He is no less wholehearted regarding this matter than the late President Harding. The department of justice is also dead in earnest."

These facts were daily stated Saturday by Prohibition Commissioner Roy A. Haynes at the morning session of the Citizenship Conference. The meeting was called by 750 influential men and women of the country in the interest of the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act.

More than a thousand men and women from all over the country have registered as delegates to the conference, which will continue in session Sunday and Monday. They represent religious, moral and social forces. Government officials, United States senators, congressmen, labor leaders, churchmen—both Jew and Christian—are taking part.

Commissioner Haynes stated that the prohibition law is being enforced. But that even his best friends do not expect a 100 per cent enforcement at (Continued on page 13)

MURDER PLOT IS SEEN BY POLICE

Robbery Theory Discarded in Attack on Wealthy Pair by Youths.

New York.—The police have discovered a theory of burglary in the attack Thursday night on Mrs. Ida M. Leslie and the subsequent shooting of Milton M. Mass, wealthy New York chemist at Mrs. Leslie's home in South Beach, Conn. In its stead they have substituted a plot to kill Mr. Mass. Two bullets struck Mass who is not in a serious condition.

A person in close touch with the investigation of the seizure of Mrs. Leslie on the lawn of her home by three young men, and the wounding twice of Mr. Mass, who has been recovering from his wounds, is quoted as saying the authorities were convinced that New York gunmen were hired by a jealous rival to kill the chemist.

Support of this theory was pointed out that if robbery had been the motive, the jewels worn by Mrs. Leslie, valued at $10,000, would have been stolen.

SCHOOL'S OWN BANK HAS $1,900

High School Band Has Largest Fund, $762—System Working Out Well.

In a financial report just completed, Principal W. W. Brown, of the high school, explains the newly established school banking system.

The aim has been to form a bank in the school, which in turn will do business with a down town bank. John R. Schuchman has been appointed school banker and writes out every check for material. Checks are written to him by the organization treasurer and are attached to a bill for the goods paid for.

There are now 37 funds listed. The total amount on deposit at present is $1,941.26, of which $500 is in a savings account.

The special funds follow: Band, $762.66; boys' athletic association, $211.32; boys' glee club, $8.50; cafeteria, $253.81; chemistry, $23.80; class of June, 1923, $100.66; class of January, 1924, $10.30; class of June, 1924, $51.67; class of January, 1925, $25.15; class of June, 1925, $1.03; dramatic fund, $86.10 girls' athletic association, $3.71; girls' glee club, $55.26; Grace Dodge club (girl reserves), $12.32; Latin club, $26.64; library, $11.14; music fund, junior high school, $29.35; Phoenix, $8.84; principal's utility fund, $87.85; radio club, $21.58; student newspaper, $53.91; John Young fund, $66.

A report must be made to student treasurers every 20 days and these are checked by the commercial department and reported to school officials.

The John Young fund was started by the Rotary club.

A swimming suit fund has been started and the suits are washed for three cents each. The rate will be reduced as soon as the equipment is paid for.

One of the advantages of the system is the borrowing privilege, which enables worthy enterprises to obtain money for work before any returns are realized.

Festivals Will Be Held in Two Lutheran Churches

Mission festivals will be held in two Lutheran churches of Janesville, Sunday, with out of town pastors here to conduct the services.

At St. John's church, North Bluff street, the Rev. E. Kuetho, Culom, Ill., will conduct the 9:30 a. m. service, while the Rev. K. Ermsich, Waverly, Ia., will speak at the next service at 10:45 a. m. At 2:30 p. m. there will be lectures in German and English and reports from the mission fields.

At St. Paul's church, South Academy street, will have Pastor Walter Sievers, Merrill, preach at both the morning services, at 9:30 in German and at 11 in English; while in the afternoon a service will be conducted at 2:30 by Pastor Max Christian, Watertown.

FIVE YEAR SENTENCE
Milwaukee—Jedwin E. Szezipanowski, former assistant county auditor here, was sentenced to five years in the house of correction when he pleaded guilty to stealing $22,000 of county funds.

Why do you buy?

Did you ever analyze your reasons for purchasing? Take coal, for instance. Why do you buy the particular brand you do? Through friendship? Habit? Or some other influence?

There's only one way to buy coal—on a basis of the heat units its bulk produces. Coal varies in quality like anything else—we recommend and sell PREMIUM Coal because it has been proven to contain the greatest amount of heat creating ability—and because we are always able to make delivery when promised. If you investigate as carefully as we did, your choice will be PREMIUM, too—besides you'll find it to be the least expensive.

PREMIUM Coal is best for all types of heating plants.

Two Going to National Meeting

The Rev. Frank J. Scribner, pastor of the Congregational church, and John M. Whitehead will be absent from the city next week in attendance at the national council of Congregational churches, which holds its biennial session at Springfield, Mass. Mr. Scribner and Mr. Whitehead will leave Monday for that city, where the council organizes Oct. 16 and continues in session through Oct. 28. Mr. Whitehead is a member of the committee on nominations for the council and Mr. Scribner goes as a delegate from the Soloth District Association of Congregational churches.

Sunday, Oct. 21, J. P. Danne of Beloit college will preach in the absence of Mr. Scribner.

KETTERING'S GAS TO BE ON SALE
Chicago—In an address before the Society of Automotive Engineers, in this city Oct. 12, C. P. Kettering, president of the General Motors Chemical company, announced that a contract had been entered into between that company and the Standard Oil company of Indiana for the distribution of Ethyl gas.

Ethyl gas is the new fuel developed by General Motors Research corporation. It has the effect of taking the knock out of a motor, no matter under what conditions or load an automobile is driven. It is the result of several years' research and test at the laboratories of the General Motors Research corporation in Dayton and has met with enthusiastic reception from motorists in Dayton and in Cincinnati, O., where it has been placed on sale at a few stations. Ethyl gas has a characteristic light wine color, which distinguishes it from other automobile fuels.

Janesville Boys on Wayland Team

Two more Janesville youths have satisfactorily demonstrated at private schools their prowess on the gridiron. Lawrence Fitchett, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Fitchett, and Raymond Peterson, Jr., son of the Rev. and Mrs. Raymond C. Peterson, students at Wayland academy, have made the first squad and are traveling with the team.

PHOENIX WILL BE ANNUAL IN FUTURE

Individual pictures of the senior class only will be placed in the high school "Phoenix" this year, as it is hereafter to be an annual. The photography contract has been awarded. While the number of individual pictures will be less than in former years, the size of the book will not be decreased owing to the new elv and alumni sections which are being added. The volume probably will contain 195 pages.

HIGH SCHOOL HAS CONTEST FOR SONG

The contest which has recently started at the high school is likely to give the school song, which it has not had before. All students are allowed to compete, either adapting new words to an old song or vice versa, or writing both words and music. The first prize will be a seat ticket to the Apollo club concert and the second prize a ticket to a single concert.

To Bankers' Meeting—John W. Dady will attend the state convention of bankers to be held in Milwaukee Oct. 17.

When Milady Goes a-Shopping

Paris is Intriguingly Boyish During the Morning. Is Charmingly Feminine in the Afternoon and Introduces its Gorgeously of Line and Fur and Fabric in the Evening.

Cleverness is the fine art of using your ignorance to the best advantage.

Velvet is making its appearance in sports skirts. The skirts are plainly tailored, brown and black, being the favorite colors.

In shoes for sport wear, strap styles with more instep coverage and less of the cut-out effect are more in favor.

Fashion rings in the bell shaped hat or cloche—one of Paris' outstanding successes. Hats with the spirited metal of youth, gold and silver lace are the newest development for debutantes and matrons for autumn functions. Snug turbans, with the slightest suggestions of a rim, light cloche, and close fitting tricornes with modern smart looking women, and analyzing just why they looked smart—just a trifle makes the difference like the half-inch on the end of one's nose.

Fur coats are either three-quarter length or very long this year.

Basque waists and bouffant skirts are carried into children's models. The flaring skirts are accentuated with cordings and puffs.

Small editions of mother's smart apparel may be found at Brock's. They have just received a complete line of the latest togs for youngsters from three to fourteen. No longer does the young generation have to be satisfied in hand-me-downs or remnants left over from Mother's last winter gown "that was just about enough to make a little Susie a dress," for many of these, we are told, would suit a very young lady's taste, so smartly are they fashioned.

There's one in black and white checked flannel with a checked skirt and a bright red bolero jacket. Others in wool crepe of tan and brown combinations, tangerine skirts, with navy velvet jackets. All have touches of handwork to make them more youthful. These are only a few of the many attractive styles you will find here for children.

Steel wool furnishes as good a cleaner for suede shoes as one could wish. Just brush the surface lightly and the spots disappear as if by magic.

These are a few of the subtle changes in the fashions of today and yesterday skirts short—your subdued lighting effect, with huge blackcats, witches and other wicked looking creatures, so realistic that they make the shivers run up and down your spine, placed here and there about the room. In order to have your guests enter into the spirit of the occasion, present them as they come with spiky horns and jazzy rattles for there's nothing like a noisy din to break down cold formality. Of course, you'll want to carry out the color scheme of yellow and black in your table decorations with cute little pumpkins for candy boxes and dozens of unusual favors. Whatever the occasion, you'll find just the right thing at Razzook's.

er some eight to ten inches, showing a circular tendency, a belted effect, the use of much velvet and fur.

Once more the argument is renewed at the breakfast table as to who is to have the car for the day. Of course, father really needs it in his business and down in your heart you know that if it were not for that eternal business there wouldn't be any car at all but even so, it's annoying, just when you wanted it to take your friends to Mrs. Smith's luncheon this noon and then there is the marketing to do and they say it really isn't safe for the children to go to school alone when they have so many busy highways to cross. At that party the other afternoon, three of the ladies said their husbands were buying them Chevrolet coupes for their very own use. That is a splendid suggestion for an anniversary or birthday present from friend husband. After November first the R. W. Motor Sales will be established in their new garage, 305 E. Milwaukee and will have a delightful place for ladies to call for their cars.

SCREEN AND STAGE

PROGRAMS AT JANESVILLE THEATERS, BEGIN ON OCT. 14.
NO OCT. 21.

APOLLO.
Beginning Monday night—Adolph Winninger company running matinees daily, beginning Wednesday, the two shows nightly Saturday and Sunday.

AT THE APOLLO.
Theater fans will hail with delight the coming of the Adolph Winninger company for a week's engagement, beginning Monday night. This is the second season that Adolph Winninger, one of the famous stock players actors, has had his own company. He is well known to Janesville theatergoers, having been coming to this city for the past 15 years in the companies of his brothers, Frank and John Winninger.

Supporting Mr. Winninger are old time favorites, such as Hugh Adams, William McEwen and Miss Helen Russell. The company has a versatile leader.

ADOLPH WINNINGER.

His repertoire, including many of the hits of Broadway.

For the opening night "Where the River Shannon Flows" has been selected. This is an Irish comedy in four acts. The sets are beautiful and the costumes "dressed." A "Dachshund" is a thoroughgoing comedy vehicle. The first matinee to be given Wednesday afternoon, is to consist of the presentation of "The Hanged Man," another sparkling comedy. The same play will be shown Wednesday night.

For the remainder of the week, equally entertaining plays are to be presented. Mr. Winninger is carrying special vaudeville artists, who will give numbers between the acts of the regular show.

AT THE MAJESTIC.
Picturing life on the Mexican border, "The Kingfisher's Roost" is a stirring melodrama, with a daring outlaw as the hero. This picture will be shown Sunday.

AT THE BEVERLY.
Every reader of popular fiction is acquainted with Ruggles, the engaging hero of "Ruggles of Red Gap," the picture of which is shown Sunday night at the Beverly for a three days' run. This is a James Cruze production with Edward Horton and Fritz Ridgeway as stars. Miss Ridgeway recently appeared in vaudeville in Chicago.

Another adventure of the H. C. Witte fighting serial, "Fighting Blood," is to be presented, absorbing in its story that many attend the theater Sundays just to follow Judy Wilson and her prize fighter lover. An Acrop table is also a feature of the Sunday night program.

Owensboro, Ky.—An explosion of 200 quarts of nitro glycerine killed Hubert Rabold, 28, oil well shooter and rocked the countryside in the neighborhood of Beda, Ohio county, late yesterday, according to reports here today.

The Rev. C. H. Harper was struck by a piece of the truck while seated in a chair at his home, 500 yards from the blast and suffered a severe injury. The Harper home was damaged and chimneys were wrecked on three houses near the explosion.

Cherries Hit High

in Y. W. Tournery

Cherries, West's Y's, Samson, Bluebells and Amazons won two games each in the Y. W. C. A. league Friday night, defeating the following teams, respectively: Speedomet, Egyptians, King Tuts, Chevrolet Starters, and Chevrolet Cranks. The Spotlights and Navajos divided their two games.

The Cherries bowled 501 for high single game and 981 for the best in two. Elsh, of the Cherries, was high individual score with 127 for high single game and 248 for two. Gurnin, hero and 324 in the two games. The Egyptians, who scored high, 22, a tie with B. Wolf of the King Tuts.

The Samsons won their first game from the King Tuts by six pins, the closest game of the night. All of the teams had full line-ups with the exception of West's Y's who were short one player.

SENATOR FESS IN

TALK TO TEACHERS

Washington—It is right, we should adhere to the world court, regardless of the effect upon the party, President Harding told me in a conference at the White House before he asked the United States senate to grant approval for the plan, and I believe that, but for Mr. Harding's untimely death, America would have become a part of the tribunal for disputes without resort to war, said United States Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio, in his address last night before the ninth annual convention of the Central Wisconsin Teachers' association.

ACORN APPETITE IS DOWNFALL OF JENNY

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Monroe—Only a year old Holstein cow belonging to Emil Schweizer, made a raid on acorns and as a result paid the supreme penalty for her folly.

For that matter all of the herd had terrific aches in the region of their tumblers but Jenny, the youngster, had the biggest ache of all, and turned her head skyward.

A week ago Jenny showed up very ill and "Doc," a veterinarian, was called into consultation. "Too many acorns," was the verdict.

BREEDERS FAVOR

LIVESTOCK AGENT

FOR ROCK COUNTY

Livestock breeders meeting with the Farm Bureau in the court house Friday night voted for the support of a livestock agent and establishing the bureau as the clearing house agency for all farm activities.

The full support of the several breeders' associations was assured by the representatives present, including the Guernsey association, a committee composed of J. A. Craig, Dr. W. A. Munn, Dr. Arthur Killians, H. C. Hemmingsway, Clarence Croft, Robert Lamb and Charles Malby.

Robert Lamb was named to draw up the rules and regulations under which stock will be sold under the county-wide plan. Strict standards will be established as to the bony tuberculosis test.

"For many years we have needed a livestock agent," declared W. A. Munn, president of the Southern Wisconsin Guernsey association. "It is a case of doing something now while attention is directed to a war in southern Wisconsin counties because of show-herd activities."

"The policy laid down on cattle sale that strict rules be made to protect the buyer against diseased stock."

SIX INJURED IN

BASEBALL RIOT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Havard—Six persons were hurt in a clash with police at Alameda baseball park yesterday when angry fans set fire to the bleachers and fences.

The park, which holds about 10,000 spectators, was crowded with fans watching Angelo Lugo's nine, and team play the Alameda nine.

In endeavoring to force spectators off the field, a mounted policeman, using the flat side of his sword, accidentally inflicted a slight flesh wound on a boy and the clash followed.

Part of the fence dividing the field stand was burned. No damage was done to the stand.

Jean Valjean Recalled
in Tragic Story Bared
by New Yorker's Death

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

New York—The tragic story of a man who erred in his youth, paid the penalty, and then set out to regain respect he had lost only to be sucked and have his early folly once more brought to life, was unfolded yesterday when the prosecutor began an investigation into the motives that prompted the suicide on Sept. 26 of Mayor Edward R. Folsom, of Irvington.

Mayor Folsom's life reminded those who heard its history of Jean Valjean, the hero of Victor Hugo's novel.

It was in Hammondport, N. Y., that the story had its beginning. It was the old tale of wealth and poverty and love. Folsom's family was poor. The girl he loved was the daughter of a wealthy man and her father refused to accept the lowly youth as his son-in-law. The boy was desperate. He forged the weekly mail's name to several checks and later was caught red handed robbing a bank.

Pardoned by Rockefeller.

His sentence was 10 years at hard labor in Auburn prison, but the late Theodore Roosevelt, then governor, pardoned him after three years had been served, in response to a petition of Hammondport citizens, headed by the girl's father.

At his death it was believed the mayor had little left of the fortune he had built up through hard work. It was said he had paid $25,000 in 12 months alone to keep the secret. The blackmail began about three years ago.

And on Sept. 26 he died. At first it was believed he had died from an accidental overdose of a sedative, then it was learned he was a suicide. The investigation unfolded the facts of his life and his wife, who had been with him and knows of all his secrets since he was released from prison, declared she knows those who took his fortune for his secret.

GRIMM HANDS OUT $1,300 IN FINES

Jail Sentences Also Await Liquor Violators in Jefferson County.

(Special to the Gazette.)
Jefferson—Fines aggregating $1,300 and jail sentences totaling 15 months were handed out by Judge George Grimm to liquor violators during the hearing of the criminal calendar of Jefferson county circuit court, concluded Friday.

Sentences on three men were suspended until a Thursday, when they will appear to be sentenced. They were given the time to settle up their affairs in preparation for serving jail sentences, which will be imposed.

10 Are Convicted
Eleven men were before the court for liquor violation and of these 10 were convicted, seven on their pleas of guilty and three by jury. Judge Grimm, federal prohibition enforcement officer, expressed himself as well pleased with the disposition of the cases, and complimented the work of Judge Grimm and District Attorney Kuehl.

A jury late Friday found R. C. Winkler, proprietor of a saloon in Watertown, guilty on five of seven counts of liquor violation, two on each count, and on the seventh on having it in his possession and maintaining a nuisance. He will be sentenced next Thursday.

Mens In Chains
Chester Watson, charged with this plea of not guilty to one of guilty in connection with the birth of a child to an unmarried woman and was ordered by the court to make up a bond of $100 with the woman and the district attorney.

Judge Grimm will pass sentence next Thursday morning on Walter Triple, Watson charged with selling intoxicating liquor, as he entered a plea of guilty. William O'Brien, Lake Mills, will be sentenced at the same time, entering a plea of guilty on a similar charge.

Six Months In Jail
Other liquor sentences meted out were to William Roth, Delaford, found guilty by a jury of selling intoxicating liquor, and to Henry Dingsberg, Delaford, found guilty of selling and receiving liquor, each on a plea of guilty. Dingsberg was sentenced to six months in jail and costs; if W. Roth, Lake Mills, fined $200 and costs on recommendation of federal prohibition officer; Henry Dingsberg, second offender, six months in the county jail, $200 and costs, or six months additional; George Rosen, Delaford, charged with selling intoxicating liquor, $300 and costs; William Hesse found guilty of selling liquor, three months in jail and $200 and costs.

F. Ladtow was found not guilty by a jury on a liquor violation charge. Another case against Ladtow and one against W. H. Meyer were continued to the term of the district attorney.

Reason for the dismissal of the arson cases as given by the court were that the confessions of Rubin Strop and Henry Strop, who were invalidated through the alleged forced use in obtaining them, and that Mrs. Max Schlosser was unable to identify them. At the trial the Strops were discredited over Strop and Strop, and stood nine to three for acquittal when deadlocked.

Harold Hesse, charged with non-support, settled with his wife and the district attorney.

John Stone, charged with receiving stolen goods, is willing to remain in jail and his case was continued over to the next term. Stone was a detective for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad when arrested, and was found wearing a suit of underwear which the state charged was stolen from the railroad. He was fined $100 and costs when he pleaded guilty to possession.

Civil Suits Next Week.
Stone, claims he will be cleared if the case proceeds to trial, and that he is willing to stay in jail until he is found. Stone has served five sentences in the state penitentiary for burglary and receiving stolen goods.

U. W. Alumni to Banquet Here Tuesday, Oct. 23
Alumni of the University of Wisconsin will hold a rally and dinner here Tuesday night, Oct. 23. All former students are expected to be present. There are, it is estimated, between 400 and 500 such people in Janesville.

The committee on arrangements consists of Otto Oostbich, chairman, F. H. Gibson, high school coach, Robert Cunningham, Mrs. John A. Whitelock, Frank Matherland, and F. O. Holt.

One of the purposes for the meeting is to promote a campaign for the Memorial building which is planned for the city. The building will serve as a center of student life. In it will be a dining hall, theater, lounge and recreation room.

An attempt will be made to organize an association of the former students who are interested in the welfare of the institution.

The committee in charge of the dinner is composed of Mrs. Frank Matherland, Mrs. John A. Whitelock, and Robert Cunningham. Letters are being sent to former students in an effort to make the attendance 100 per cent. The committee asks that those who are eligible to attend to observe the evening.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Edgar Quenton Bartholomew had two nephews, each named the sons of two brothers. One had been absent in Europe for a term of years. He returned to America, made his home with his uncle. Here he met another cousin, daughter of the uncle, with whom he had been brought up. He loved to learn that the other Edgar was understood to be an accepted suitor. This Edgar and the uncle quailed. In this house there was a mystery in the main stairs, steps other than open ones following up the stairs. The water in a pitcher on the table was blown on one from some mysterious and unaccounted place. There was no love lost between the two male cousins and it was understood that the one marrying Orpha would be the one to take care of the uncle. The uncle said there is no hope for his recovery. Edgar, he tells the story, sounds much of the time in the sick room. Uncle Quenton dies suddenly after being given a second dose. His will is mysterious and search is made for the person suspected of having administered poison. There were two wills and one was left the property in equal shares between Orpha and Quenton, while the other left it all to Edward. Neither could be found. An inquest was held on the death of the uncle.

"The bottle holding this medicine was kept as I have already said, with all the other medicines in the cabinet hanging in the upper passageway." Every eye rose to the chart. "The water in a pitcher on the large table to the left of the fireplace. The water in this pitcher, which I had drawn myself, I went to the medicine cabinet and got the bottle containing the drops the doctor had ordered for the uncle, together with the medicine-dropper, added the customary ten drops to the water and put the bottle back in the cabinet and went to the shelf. Mr. Bartholomew's face was turned my way and he naturally followed my movements as I passed to and fro; but he showed no especial interest in them, nor did he speak."

"Was this before or after you dropped the curtain on the other side of the bed?"

"After."

"The bed, I have been given to understand, is surrounded on all sides by heavy curtains which can be pulled to or from. Was the one you speak of the only one to be dropped or pulled at night?"

"Usually, you see Miss Orpha's picture hangs in the window and was company for him if he chanced to wake in the night."

"Again that sob, but fainter than before, and the very far removed myself—pushed aside and back from the grief and sufferings of this family."

"Hands which turned at this low but pathetic sound were soon turned back again as the steady questioning went on:

"You speak of going to the medicine cabinet. It was your business, no doubt, to go there often."

"Very often; I was his nurse, you see."

"There was another bottle of medicine kept there—the one labeled 'Dangerous'?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you see that bottle when you went for the soothing mixture you speak of?"

"No, sir. This was very firmly said, and the bottle I wanted being in front of me, I just pulled it out and never looked at any other."

"This other bottle—the dangerous one—where was that kept?"

Household Hints

MEAT MEAT
Baked Apples. Creamed Toast.
Rice Griddle Cakes. Syrup.
Coffee.

Luncheon.
Baked Macaroni and Cheese.
Lettuce and Tomatoes.
Hot Baking Powder Biscuits.
Preserved Milk or Cocoa.

Dinner.
Tomato Soup.
Braised Ham and Potatoes.
Scalloped Onions.
Lettuce or Gress.
Brown Betty with Hard Sauce.
Tea or Coffee.

TODAY'S RECIPES
Rice Griddle Cakes—Beat one or two eggs until light. Mix with one cup cold cooked rice. Add one teaspoon sugar, one-half teaspoon salt on cup milk, one cup flour with two teaspoons baking powder sifted in it. More milk may be added to make a batter as thick as the usual griddle cake batter.

Macaroni and Cheese—Cook macaroni in salted water until tender. Melt one tablespoon of butter in saucepan, add one tablespoon flour and gradually add one cup milk. When hot and smooth, add on cup grated or finely cut cheese. Stir until cheese is melted, season with pepper and salt, pour over macaroni. Put all into buttered baking dish, spread bread crumbs and grated cheese on top and bake fifteen or twenty minutes in hot oven.

HALLOWEEN PARTIES
Fancy dress parties with everyone masked are always interesting, and especially so for halloweens. Party may be used to change the shape of the nose and teeth may be "knocked out" by the simple process of cutting chalk plaster the right size and covering any desired tooth with it. Crepe paper can be obtained in all colors and at slight expense and can be used with any pattern made for cloth. Special patterns for crepe paper costumes can also be obtained with full directions and suggestions for color combinations.

The good old-fashioned "ghost party" is always fun. The hostess asks each guest to bring a sheet and pillow case. She furnishes the masks so that all will be alike. Plain crepe paper with eyes and nose holes cut in it are best. The hostess helps each guest to don this regalia and gives him a stout cord for a belt.

Ducking for Apples—Some of the old fortune telling games are always in demand at a halloween entertainment. Ducking for apples is one of these. Use an old-fashioned wooden tub. Place a dime in one apple, a ring in another and a button in a third. Hang it by a string and while money, marriage and good luck are called for. Examples: how, hen, low, lean, etc. About five minutes should be allowed for each letter.

Halloween Amusements—Give the guests pencil and paper and ask them to make as many words as possible using combinations of the letters in the word "Halloween," beginning with H, then A, and so on as the words are called. Examples: how, hen, low, lean, etc. About five minutes should be allowed for each letter.

Pumpkin Fortune—"Twirl a pumpkin. Then strike true. For the name depends on you." Paste gummed letters on a pumpkin. Hang it by a string and while it revolves, players must stick a hatpin in a letter. This will furnish the clue to the name of the future life partner.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON. Letters May Be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married woman of thirty-five and have been married thirteen years. I am considered rather good-looking and am a favorite with my friends, young and old. My husband is jealous because I am popular.

We have three bright little boys from his side and I have no interest at all. He always wants them out of his way and is never kind to them. I am a hard-working woman and try to save, but he is the other way. He goes with young fellows and drinks, plays pool, runs with other women and spends his wages on them. He hardly has any money for home, except fifty cents a week which he allows me.

I have done everything I can to make home happy. I am not a flashy dresser like other women, as I do not care for half-dressed boys. I was used to respect my parents and they taught me that half-dressed people were immoral.

My husband comes home right after midnight and is drunk and curses. He never stays home, even on Sunday. He is gone. He hasn't spent thirteen months home in the last three years.

The neighbors say it is a shame the way he carries on and say they would leave him. He is a very poor example for the boys. He encourages the boys not to mind me and it makes it awfully hard for me.

I am growing nervous under the strain of constant trouble. Your advice will be greatly appreciated.

YOUR ANXIOUS WIFE.

Your husband is not a help to you in any way that I can see unless he helps you to pay rent and provide a home for the boys. If, however, you save the money for the support of yourself and the children, I would not advise you to tolerate him in the home a minute. Of course his example to the boys is bad and they

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred is happy to advise all mothers about the care of their children at any age or on any subject which does not belong in the field of the doctor.

Selfish Fear.

Saying "No" is easy. There are far too many of us who consider that to be considerate mothers we have to "sugar" our children from all the ordinary mishaps of life. The more things they manage to escape through out eternal vigilance, the better mothers we consider ourselves to be. When children are unhindered by so much over-protecting along in the world and develop their own blinps of caution and confidence, we consider it more luck.

There is more than one reason why we deny so many things to our children which have no real danger with their safety. More often than not we are thinking less of the children's safety than we are of our own peace of mind.

When the child, bubbling with delight, comes to suggest some outlandish outing—picnics in February tramps on wet days, all the things which to us seem so insignificant, and to the children so heart-breaking if they can't do them, we say, "No," because to say yes would give

FACE CREAMS

After having tried an extraordinary number of other face creams, I have come back to my two pet formulas, and feel somewhat like the woman who left her home to travel round the world and felt, when she slipped her key, once more into the familiar lock, "that there was no other place so soothing and beautiful. Some of the creams stung, some drew, some were sticky, many of course were splendid, and generally rather expensive at the same time. But I liked my own the best."

For cleansing, for massage, for dryness, for general toning of the skin the Pine Cream is recommended. This takes:

Rose Water.....1 ounce
Almond Oil.....1 ounce
Spermaceti.....1 ounce
White Wax.....1 ounce
Benzoin.....1 ounce
Powdered Borax......30 grains

This isn't expensive to make, but if cost must be kept down, use plain boiled and strained water instead of rose water, and olive oil of as good a grade as possible, instead of almond. In any case, melt the wax and oil, when quite blended but not too hot, add the previously warmed water and benzoin and borax; those three mixed together. Stir and beat as the mixture begins to cool and congeal, watch it carefully. When it has cooled to the consistency of cream pour off into jars. Save your old cream jars for this purpose, or buy yourself cheap, decorative little china jars with lids. They should not hold more than a very small teaspoon full. It is nicest to have the cream in small amounts and to open fresh jars often. It won't turn rancid, and it won't be either too thin or too hard if you follow these directions.

Anxious.—For hands that look old nourish the tissues by massaging olive oil or a flesh building cream into them. Always keep the nails well cared for, feeding them also

FACE FULL OF RED PIMPLES

Itched and Burned, Scalp Covered With Dry Lumps; Cuticura Healed.

"My face was full of small, red pimples and so sore that I could hardly stand to shave. My scalp was covered with dry lumps that would scale off and leave raw eruptions. The eruptions itched and burned so badly that I scratched them, causing them to bleed."

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they helped me, and after using one box of Cuticura Ointment, together with the Cuticura Soap, I was healed." (Signed) C. L. Walker, 717 Zane St., Martins Ferry, Ohio.

BACK ACHED TERRIBLY

Mrs. Robinson Tells How She Found Relief by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Amarillo, Tex.—"My back was my greatest trouble. It would achen that it would almost kill me and I suffered in this way about three years; then a lady friend suggested that I take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have had better health since, keep house and am able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends as it has certainly given me great relief."—Mrs. C. B. ROBINSON, 608 N. Lincoln St., Amarillo, Texas.

The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for women. It relieves the troubles which cause such symptoms as backache, painful times, irregularity, tired and worn-out feelings and nervousness. This is shown again and again by such letters as Mrs. Robinson writes as well as by one woman telling another. These women know what it did for them. It is surely worth your trial.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so ill that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties.

PESSIMISTIC OVER GAS SITUATION

Alarm Felt Over Low Price and Increased Use of Auto Fuel.

New York — The recent drastic reductions in the prices of gasoline are the natural consequence and expression of a situation which has developed in the past few years, explains the current issue of "The Guaranty Survey," published by the Guaranty Trust Company.

"The over-production of oil during this period, and the resulting accumulation of stocks of crude petroleum and its products, has been accompanied with growing concern, the 'Guaranty' continues. 'Although the present price war' began with the retelling of gasoline by an official of a western State, there has been ample evidence that a general fall in oil prices was imminent.

"Clearly, relief must be sought either in the production of oil or in increased consumption of oil products. For many reasons the most desirable means of accomplishing a curtailment of production on the part of the producers themselves. But the type of organization which prevails in this branch of the industry makes such a solution virtually impossible, and the necessary reduction of output will probably come as a result of extremely low prices, which will render the production of oil wells unprofitable. Restriction of purchases by the refineries may offer the most immediate and effective means of curtailing crude oil production, but a minimum of embarrassment for all concerned.

"Public Interests Involved

"From the standpoint of the public, restricted purchasing by the refineries would appear to be preferable in the long run to the price-cutting which has actually taken place. Any excessive reduction in the prices of petroleum products is unfortunate in that it unduly stimulates consumption and hastens the depletion of the country's oil resources. Any excessive reduction in the prices of petroleum products is unfortunate in that it unduly stimulates consumption and hastens the depletion of the country's oil resources. Any excessive reduction in the prices of petroleum products is unfortunate in that it unduly stimulates consumption and hastens the depletion of the country's oil resources.

Not So Bad

"Fortunately, this situation is not likely to arise, for the physical conditions under which production is carried on are such that the maximum rate cannot be maintained. The peak of the production of each well is reached very early in its life, and the flow of oil gradually diminishes until its exhaustion. Even with the discovery of new and rich deposits in California, the acceleration of output has been accomplished only by the sinking of an enormous number of new wells. On December 21, 1922, there were approximately 284,800 producing wells in the United States, operated by about 5,000 individual owners. This compares with 258,600 wells in 1920, 202,000 in 1918 and 129,000 in 1913.

Filipino Legislators May Return to Native Dress

Manila—Restoration of the colorful native "barong" as the official dress of Filipino legislators, as proposed in a resolution submitted by Representative Rafael Villanueva in the house of representatives.

The "barong" is a shirt-like garment, with a narrow neck-band and takes the place of both shirt and coat. Worn outside the belt of the trousers, it gives Americans the impression that the wearer had dressed hastily and neglected to tuck his shirt into his trousers.

Dinner Stories

Uncle Joshua was a laconic and hard-headed old countryman. He never let the criticisms of his too frank neighbors upset his equanimity, according to Judge. At one of the sessions of the "Village Club," which met every day in the postoffice for the distribution of the five o'clock mail, some of the members endeavored to twist Uncle Joshua about a tale then going the rounds of one of his recent horse trades.

"They're tellin' all kinds of lies about you, Josh," cried one young blade. "What you goin' to do about it?"

"Do?" replied Uncle Joshua, coolly, as he spat with unerring accuracy through the open door. "Nothin'! I don't care! I know many lies they tell about me. It's the truth I'm a-skored of."

The continued exodus from the south of the colored population, although matter of concern to industrial centers, is not without a bit of humor now and then, remarks Everybody's.

At the terminal station in Macon, Ga., a party of adventurers, including a party of bidders good-bye to another of his color said: "Well, Sam, when you comin' to Detroit?"

"Belongs to de 'B' class," replied Sam.

"How's dat? What you mean by de 'B' class, nigger?"

"What I means," said Sam, "is dat I be here when you gwine away an' I be here when you comes back."

GRAIN

Chicago Review.

Chicago—Although wheat showed an upward tendency at the opening today, values soon declined. The first appearance of strength was ascribed to something of an advance in Liverpool quotations. Bearish Canadian crop estimates proved more than an offset, however, with numerous holders and dealers selling to realize profits. The market underwent a material sag. The opening, which was reached from the same as Thursday's rise to 1 1/2 higher, with Dec. 1 1/2 @ 1.00 1/2, and May 1 1/2 @ 1.12 1/2, was followed by slight further gains and then by a setback all around.

Corn and oats fluctuated with wheat. First quotations were generally unchanged to 1/2 higher. After opening unchanged to 1/2 higher, Dec. 1 1/2 @ 77 1/2, the corn market underwent a moderate decline. Oats started a shade higher; Dec. 1 1/2 @ 45 1/2, and later eased down a 1/2 to 44 1/2.

Provisions were firm in line with the hog market.

ROOSEVELT HOUSE IS NOW COMPLETE

Memorial to the Late President Will Be Dedicated Oct. 27.

New York — Roosevelt House at No. 23 East Twentieth street, completed today, the work of moving into it the historical furnishings and the great collection of Rooseveltiana. During this week, and on October 27, the anniversary of Theodore Roosevelt's birth, the building will be dedicated by the Woman's Roosevelt Memorial Association as an enduring memorial and a museum of Americanism. Hundreds of notable men and women have signified desire to participate in the dedication ceremonies, of which a tribute by President Coolidge is to be a leading feature. Following the dedication the building will be opened to the public, and it is the belief of Association members that Roosevelt House will take its place with Mount Vernon, Monticello and Lincoln's birthplace as a shrine of the patriotic.

Shortly after Colonel Roosevelt's death January 6, 1919, the Woman's Roosevelt Memorial Association was formed for the purpose of raising a memorial which would be not only lasting but appropriate. The organization, of which Mrs. John Henry Hammond is president, and which has chapters throughout the country, has restored the house in which Theodore Roosevelt was born, October 27, 1858, so reconstructed that the Roosevelt family lived from 1854 until 1874. Additional space was obtained which permitted the erection of wing walls and a subordinated addition which got the replica out from the surrounding business buildings of the block. There also was added a fourth story, not visible from the street, enclosing a little library which also can be used for motion pictures and lectures. Theodore Roosevelt, the architect, had the cooperation of Colonel Roosevelt's sisters, Mrs. William Sheffield Cowles and Mrs. Douglas Robinson, in planning the restoration of the Roosevelt house.

The basement is given over to an extensive museum. The first drawing room, library and dining room are restored in the period of Theodore Roosevelt's boyhood, while in the adjoining section is another large exhibition space. The fashions of the '50's are carried out in the furnishings of the second floor front bedroom, where "T. R." was born. The rear bedroom and the children's porch which his father fitted out for him as a gymnasium.

The second floor of the annex is the library for the Roosevelt family. An association of collectors of books and manuscripts by and about Theodore Roosevelt and his times. This library is to be continuously at the disposal of historians, students and writers. On the third floor are the offices of the Woman's Roosevelt Memorial Association and the Bureau of Research of the Roosevelt Memorial Association. The fourth floor, topping the height of the original house, is made into a compact little theater where lectures and other subjects may be presented. It has a fireproof projecting booth outfitted with a motion picture projection machine, while built into the structure is a concrete storage vault for preserving all the Roosevelt film which can be obtained.

Useful in Many Ways

It is the intention to make Roosevelt House useful in as many ways as possible to be in keeping with the spirit of the memorial. In addition to being a landmark, meeting place, motion picture theater, club, museum and library, it is to be the headquarters of the Woman's Roosevelt Memorial Association, and the repository for the collections of the Roosevelt Memorial Association, the men's organization of which Colonel William Boyce Thompson is president.

Mrs. Leonard Wood is honorary president of the Woman's Memorial Association. The active officers of which are Mrs. John Henry Hammond, president, Mrs. Charles A. Bryan, secretary, Mrs. A. Barton Hepburn, treasurer, and Mrs. Henry Alexander, Mrs. William Cowles, Mrs. Henry A. Wise, Mrs. James Russell Parsons and Mrs. Alexander Lambert, vice presidents.

ASSOCIATED PRESS RENDERS SERVICE TO WHOLE WORLD

New York — Sir Roderick Jones, Chairman of Reuters' News Agency, who is in New York on his way to the Far East, spoke in enthusiastic terms of the work of the Associated Press, which organization he declared is rendering an immense national service. Sir Roderick said he was at a loss to understand how allegations could ever have been made that the Associated Press was interested in gathering other than unbiased news. He said a full news service between the British Empire and the United States was of the utmost importance to both countries.

"While I have been here," he continued, "I attended, as on the occasion of my visit three years ago, the quarterly board meeting of the Associated Press at the invitation of the Directors. As on the other occasion, I was afforded an exceptional opportunity of studying the manner in which the Associated Press is governed."

In light of what I have seen, I should add here that Reuters has been in close alliance with the Associated Press ever since it was established three years ago—I cannot imagine how anybody can allege, as I am told people do occasionally allege, that the Associated Press could not be under the influence of this or that individual, this or that race, this or that creed, or this or that organization.

"The varied composition of the immense membership of the Associated Press, stretching east and west, north and south of the continent, is in itself a permanent safeguard against the charges brought against it. That varied composition is reflected in the Board of Directors."

"Without a doubt the Associated Press is the greatest co-operative news organization in the world, just as Reuters is the greatest proprietary organization, and they brought the business of objective, unbiased, dispassionate news connection up to the highest level of perfection."

The Associated Press, in my judgment, is rendering an immense national service to the people of this country, not alone by reason of its system of local news exchange within the borders of the United States, but also by reason of the splendid foreign dispatches which it carries to America throughout the twenty-four hours from London, Paris, Berlin and a score of other European centers, as well as from the Far East and other parts of the world.

Let's Sing the Praises of Wisconsin!

Wisconsin—state of milk and cheese—of diversified industries and stable income!

Wisconsin produces enough milk in a year to give over eight gallons to every man, woman and child in the country; she produces twice as much cheese as all the rest of the country together; yet these dairy products account for only a small part of our state's total income.

Wisconsin is a good state in which to live. This bank is proud to serve the people of this great commonwealth.

Now Is the Time to Buy Bonds!

"In the early winter, when people are preparing for cold weather, overcoat prices are always high. That is because there is a strong demand for overcoats."

"Later, however, when the demand eases up a bit, down come prices. A coat that would cost $50 in the early winter, drops down to $35 at the end of the season. Yet it's the same coat in every respect—worth just as much."

"Securities are like that, too. When the market is brisk and there are many buyers, naturally up go quotations. On the other hand, when there is no brisk demand, the market goes downward."

"Normally, the Bond Market should be moving upward. But it isn't. Why not? Because the average investor is a bit uncertain. He is afraid—and hesitates to buy. The decline in business activity naturally started the stock market downward. Up to now it has dropped about 16 points from the high mark of March. With this before his eyes, the average investor fights shy of either stocks or bonds—BECAUSE THEY ARE LOW! Yet today a good security is certainly a purchase."

RAILROAD TRANSPORTATION IN THE U. S.

By Albert R. Cummins, United States Senator from Iowa, and Chairman of the Committee on Interstate Commerce of the Senate.
(Copyright, 1923).

Article XII. Recapture provisions.

Whatever may be the exaggerations in the extracts from Senator Capper's speech quoted at the conclusion of my last article, it is obvious that his proposition is that the roads which he terms "lame duck" roads, must go out of business, that is to say, be dismantled and abandoned. This presents the real issue of the fight to repeal section 5-a. I venture the assertion that when Senator Capper, and those who are with him in the effort to repeal this section, fairly realize just what this means to the country they will hesitate to reconsider their conclusion.

There are, undoubtedly, a few miles, or even a few hundred miles of railways in the United States which ought to be abandoned and sent to the scrap heap without any loss to our transportation facilities; but if the view announced by Senator Capper is to be adopted there must be from seventy to one hundred thousand miles abandoned, and with all respect to my able and distinguished colleague, such an outcome as that is simply unthinkable. His own state is typical of the general situation. The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe had a net operating income, in 1921, of $45,234,000; it operated 5,533 miles of railway. In 1922 it had a net operating income of $35,500,000, and operated 5,537 miles. In 1923, its net operating income per mile of road was more than $5,000; in 1922, its net operating income per mile was about $1,000.

The Union Pacific in 1921, had a net operating income of $23,352,000, and operated 3,622 miles; its net operating income per mile was about $5,000. In 1922, it had a net operating income of $23,321,000, and a net operating income per mile of about $7,000.

I will now examine some of the other roads which serve Kansas (the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific had, in 1921, of $15,198,000 and operated 7,661 miles; it had a net operating income per mile of about $2,000. In 1922 it had a net operating income of $15,384,000, or a net operating income per mile considerably less than $2,000. If rates were reduced as proposed by Senator Capper, what would become of the service of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific?

The Missouri Pacific serves a very large territory in Kansas. Its net operating income, for 1921, was $9,854,000; it operated 7,300 miles; its net operating income per mile was a trifle above $1,000. In 1922, its net operating income was $8,247,000, and its net operating income per mile was substantially $1,000. I ask Senator Capper what would happen to the Missouri Pacific if rates were reduced so as to bring the net operating income of the Union Pacific and the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe to the point he suggests?

The Kansas, Oklahoma & Gulf operates in Kansas. In 1921 its net loss upon 347 miles of road was $7,418. In 1922 it had a net operating income of $328,000. What would be the outcome to this property if the policy, which the Senator from Kansas advocates, should be pursued. The St. Joseph & Grand Island serves a very considerable territory in Kansas. In 1921 its net operating income was $141,000, and it operated 255 miles of road. In 1922 its net operating income was $70,029, or less than $300 per mile. Senator Capper would see this road go into the scrap heap along with the Atlanta, Birmingham & Atlantic. The Kansas City, Mexico & Orient, in 1921, operated its 127 miles of road at a net loss of more than $800,000. In 1922 its net loss (by neglecting maintenance) was a trifle under $800,000. Under the policy of "lame duck" roads this property must go into the junk pile.

If I were to go over every road which serves the people of Kansas with transportation it would be found that about one-half the railway mileage in that state, under the policy advocated by the Senator from that state, would in the course of time be given up. It needs no argument to convince the people that this policy can not be pursued. Rather than to destroy the country in this fashion it would be infinitely better to go to government ownership, and supplement inadequate revenues by appropriations from the general treasury. All the reasons urged by Senator Capper for the repeal of section 5-a will, when the situation is correctly understood, be the most persuasive arguments in favor of its retention until at least we can bring about the consolidation of the lines, and save the American railways from destruction or from government ownership.

Senator Capper is very pessimistic about another provision in section 5-a, to which I will now give brief attention. "Knowing that some roads would earn, under any possible distribution of rates, more than a fair return, the law provides in paragraph (c) that under the provisions of this section, any carrier receives for any year a net railway operating income in excess of 6 per centum of the value of the railway property held for and used by it in the service of transportation, one-half of such excess shall be placed in a reserve fund established and maintained by such carrier, and the other half thereof shall, within the first four months following the close of the period for which such computation is made, be recovered by and paid to the commission for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a general railroad contingent fund as hereinafter described."

He says that many railways have earned more than 6 per cent but that they have refused to pay one-half the excess to the government, claiming that this part of the law is unconstitutional. He says the interstate commerce commission has not attempted to collect the money due the government under this clause, and that the attempt to recapture these excess earnings is a complete failure. It is quite evident that my colleague is so bitterly opposed to the section itself that he rather hopes that this part of it will not be successful. What is the truth about it?

In 1920, there were substantially no excess earnings; in 1921, a comparatively small amount. In 1922 there was a large amount earned by various railroads in excess of 6 per cent. It is true that the railway companies which are earning the excess incomes have insisted that the transportation act, in this respect, is unconstitutional, but it must be remembered that, at one time or another, the railroad companies have claimed that practically all the effective parts of the interstate commerce act were unconstitutional.

Senator Capper, as already suggested, delivered his speeches in the senate on Nov. 23, 1922, and Feb. 1, 1923. There was then pending in the District Court of the United States for the eastern district of Texas a case brought to test the constitutionality of the recapture provisions of the transportation act. It was carried to a decision with unusual promptitude and was decided shortly after Senator Capper made his last speech in the senate. The court held the act, in this respect, to be constitutional. The opinion will be found in 237 Federal Reporter, 723. The carrier immediately appealed from the decision of the Supreme court of the United States, and the case is assigned for hearing in that tribunal on Nov. 12, next. Instead of being negligible, this indicates extraordinary diligence on the part of the commission, and I venture to say that the commission is doing everything in its power to collect these excess earnings which constitute a very large amount, and instead of being censured for delay it ought to be commended for marked activity and pronounced success.

It will be remembered that practically all the excess earnings up to this time are for the year 1922, and that while Class One roads make tentative monthly reports their excess earnings could not be definitely ascertained until their annual reports were made, and examined. This work could not be done until well along in 1923. Moreover, the amount of excess earnings with re-

FINANCIAL NOTES

September fire losses in this country's carriers were $23,738,000, according to today's figures, compared with $24,404,000 for August and $41,515,000 for September of last year. For nine months the loss has been $22,754,000, or more than for any other year on record, except 1908, which included the San Francisco fire. For the first nine months of last year, the figures were $23,021,000, and for 1921, $250,613,000.

McCrory stores reports September sales of $1,667,000, or 20 per cent more than a year ago. For the nine months the sales were $14,082,000, an increase of 26 per cent. The company has 161 5 and 10 cent stores.

American Smelting and Refining Company and its subsidiaries for the first six months of 1923 reports net income of $5,036,045.58, an increase of $3,276,122.20 over that of the corresponding period last year. Preferred stock dividends amount to $1,750,000, leaving available for dividends the common stock $3,286,045.58, or at the rate of nearly $1 per annum for share of common stock. There is no bank indebtedness whatever and there was on hand at the end of the period in cash, call loan bankers' acceptances and government securities $15,658,185.

Figures compiled by Rubber Association of America show that inventory of pneumatic casings in hands of fifty-eight manufacturers at the end of August were 6,065, spect to any particular road cannot be computed finally until the commission completes its valuation of the property of that road. There is absolutely no cause for complaint, and I think it may be assumed, however doubtful, Senator Capper may be about it, that if the supreme court sustains the decision of the district court all the money due from the roads with net operating incomes above 6 per cent will very soon be paid into the treasury of the United States.

I have not referred to the statements made by Senator Capper respecting the dividends paid by some of these railway companies, however misleading they may be, because these things are not pertinent to the questions I am discussing, nor do they bear even remotely upon the demand for the repeal of section 5-a. I agree that some railway properties are earning more than they ought to earn but if this section were repealed the effect would be, in my judgment, to increase rather than decrease the earnings of these fortunate properties. It cannot be doubted that there would then be an attempt to establish rates based upon the necessities of the less prosperous roads.

This concludes my discussion of the railroad problem from a legislative standpoint; a little later I shall submit to the people of Iowa some facts respecting other phases of the subject, hoping to correct the misunderstandings which have arisen as to the relation between the business of furnishing transportation service and other forms of industrial activity.

THIS END.

357, compared with 6,471,124 in July, and 4,825,392 in hands of sixty-three manufacturers in August, 1922. Production was 2,356,915 in August against 1,629,939 in July and 2,305,260 in August, 1922. Shipments were 2,807,482 compared with 2,539,425 in July and 3,029,853 in August, 1922. Inventory in hands of fifty-three manufacturers of inner tubes was 6,950,576 in August, compared with 7,527,281 in July and 6,207,228 for sixty-three manufacturers in August, 1922. Production was 3,577,922 in August, compared with 2,666,255 in July and 3,808,224 in August, 1922, while shipments were 4,304,034 against 3,942,247 and 4,220,055. The figures represent approximately 75 per cent of the American tire industry.

The Northern States Power Company reports net income of $7,722,287 for the twelve months ending August 31, 1923, compared with $5,272,083 in the preceding twelve months.

The Congoleum Company has applied to the New York Stock Exchange to list its common stock, recently increased from 100,000 to 240,000 shares by a 140 per cent stock dividend.

S. W. Straus & Co. have purchased an issue of $1,100,000 first mortgage 6 1-2 per cent 2 to 12-year coupon gold bonds of the Broadway and 124th Street Corporation, secured by the land and a 15-story apartment building now being erected.

The Ohio Power Company has been authorized to issue $1 million dollars 6 per cent bonds, the proceeds to be used to complete the company's plant at Philo, O.

Market Declines as Speculative Forces Are Busy

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York — Speculative forces working for the decline made further progress in this week's stock market although the so-called pivotal industrial stocks offered stubborn resistance to selling pressure around their previous lows.

There were a few constructive news developments during the week but the stock market paid little or no attention to them. Copper shares were sharply depressed, Anaconda and some of the minor issues, failing to new low records for the year. Rubbers also lost ground. The continued shrinkage in the unfilled orders of the United States Steel corporation and lessened production had a depressing effect on the steel shares. Motors and motor accessories witnessed the usual seasonal liquidation.

The mills showed more stability and sugar developed intervals of strength on reports of higher commodity prices.

Railroad shares were unable to maintain the rally which set in late last week, operations for the advance being suspended when it was discovered that they were attracting little outside participation. Germany's currency continued its downward course, French francs showed marked improvement.

COST OF RADIO SETS
A crystal set with a simple tuning coil, a crystal detector and a pair of cheap phones, costs from $5 to $20 complete. A single set will cost from $25 to $50 if bought complete with dry cell, tube and batteries. A set having two stages of radio frequency amplification and a vacuum tube detector for receiving more than 100 miles costs from $75 to $100 complete with all accessories. An outfit using two stages of radio frequency, detector and two stages of audio frequency will cost from $15 to $50. Loud speakers and units cost anywhere from $3 to $35.

It is estimated that there are 111,000,000 people in the world who live in electrically lighted homes, this representing 6.5 per cent of the world's population.

Are You Seeking the "Pot of Gold" at the End of the Rainbow?

NOT really following the rainbow, of course, but at times hoping against your better judgment, that you will find some magic way to wealth.

All of us have that feeling occasionally. It is a trait of human nature, and how well the promoter of "shady" investments knows it!

Next time you hear of a chance to make big profits, just remember—before your imagination runs away with your prudence—such offerings are usually unsound.

With all the varied and splendid opportunities for safe investment, no one need give a thought to hazardous schemes. If the urge "should come to follow the rainbow"—talk it over with your Banker first.

Over 2 billion dollars has been invested in the public utilities of this country by Life Insurance Companies—a sum almost beyond comprehension.

By nature of their business Life Insurance Companies must have absolute safety in their investments and PUBLIC UTILITY SECURITIES possess this requirement.

Every person holding a Life Insurance Policy has an interest in Public Utilities as some of their money is indirectly invested in this business. Over 71 million Life Insurance Policies are now in force in the United States.

A comprehensive study of the wheat situation with a view toward stimulating the handling of the surplus and relieving the farmers raising it, is being made in the northwestern states by a committee appointed by President Coolidge. Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the war finance corporation, is acting as the president's personal representative on the committee. The formation of co-operative associations by raisers is being urged by the members.

Above is the state Republican committee which friends of Gov. Warren T. McCray of Indiana charge is trying to oust him from office because of his "personal financial difficulties." A grand jury probe of Governor McCray's handling of funds as governor has been ordered and the distribution of his personal notes among a score of banks is being brought into the attacks against the executive. He asserts his innocence of misuse of any funds and says he is being persecuted.

China once more has a president after a lapse of three months. He is Marshal Tase Kun, chief of the northern militarists. Li Yuan Hung, his predecessor, fled because of the alarming situation in Peking three months ago and failure of parliament to assemble enough members at various meetings for a quorum caused the delay in the election of Kun, who was considered the likely successor at the time.

BANKERS TO HEAR OF BUREAU WORK

Rock County Bankers' Association Meets in Janesville Wednesday.

BY LEWIS C. FRENCH

Bankers of Rock county are interested and concerned over the agricultural situation here at home. Banking interests of this county have been liberal in their support of agricultural projects and it is said by farmers deserving of credit, if they have ever been refused.

Through their county association, the bankers will be urged to take part in the program of building a more prosperous agriculture, the methods employed in developing and extending the reputation of Rock county farm products will be explained during a meeting next Wednesday in Janesville. The program of county-wide service has been prepared for the bankers and, if properly adopted, will be of great benefit.

The Janesville bankers have already indicated their desire to do anything in their power to boost along any activity that will improve the business of farming locally.

Program of Bureau

The Farm Bureau is taking radical steps in an effort to extend its service.

The Bureau has gone on record that an appropriation will be granted to rural women's demonstration agent to the event 4,500 members are secured in the pending campaign.

The Bureau has voted to establish livestock department and employ a livestock agent for this department.

These departments are both important for the rural home-wife has been neglected for too long a period. A livestock agent will be able to give a "word of good" in Rock county, it is hoped that the membership campaign, which has been delayed several times, will be successful enough to add a home worker under the Farm Bureau.

membership of 2,000 Farm Bureau members will mean sufficient revenue "to do things" and 75 percent of the dues will go to support projects that Rock county farmers desire.

RURAL WOMEN'S CLUBS GAINING FAVOR IN STATE

Wausau.—Women's clubs throughout Marathon county went into high speed here when delegates from 32 county and 10 community clubs attended the semi-annual meeting of the County Federation of Women's Clubs. Definite goals of accomplishment were set by the women and plans laid to accomplish these ends. Marathon county's clubs have undertaken a wide variety of projects. Some communities have responded to work with the paperless form, others have turned toward putting on the hot lunch project in the rural schools. House arrangement and decoration projects have met with enthusiastic response from the women of the county, while two Marathon county clubs have been especially active along the line of poultry. One member hatched and sold 4,500 day-old chicks last summer and is now marketing eggs from her spring pullets, while her bank account assumes sizeable proportions.

Millinery has always found a soft spot in the heart of womanhood and clubs are carrying on this line of work. Labor saving devices and time saving kitchen arrangements are also numbered among the women's activities. In fact there are very few things about the home that escape the careful scrutiny of these women and Marathon county homes will be richer and happier as a result of this line of work, sponsors of the movement declare.

"AGGIE" LEADERS OF STATE MEET IN MADISON, OCT. 22-26

The official family of the agricultural leaders in the state will gather October 22-26 to plan their activities and formulate a program for 1924.

County agents, farmers institute workers, extension specialists and cow testers will attend the sessions of the conference. Plans have been completed for the conference and according to J. T. Jones, state livestock agent, the visiting agricultural leaders will not experience a dull moment during their stay in the Capitol city.

Aggie leaders will be held at the Madison Hotel. Sources of agricultural time in Wisconsin, alfalfa campaigns, and the dairy club will be the headline attraction for attention.

meetings during the week will be held with the Wisconsin Dairyman's Association who will be in session here October 22 and 23. The Wisconsin Livestock Exposition is held annually in the fall under the direction of the Wisconsin Livestock Association and will be held at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture.

John D. Jones, state commissioner of agriculture, will talk to the assembled Aggie leaders and the Wisconsin Livestock Exposition, H. L. Russell, dean of the Badger Farm School will entertain the visitors with an account of a recent demonstration and discussions by actual field workers will make up the major part of the program to be presented to the visitors.

TALKING HONEY

(No. 5)

Green apples and ripe ones. What's the difference?

There is the same difference between ripe honey and unripe honey as there is between a ripe apple and a green one.

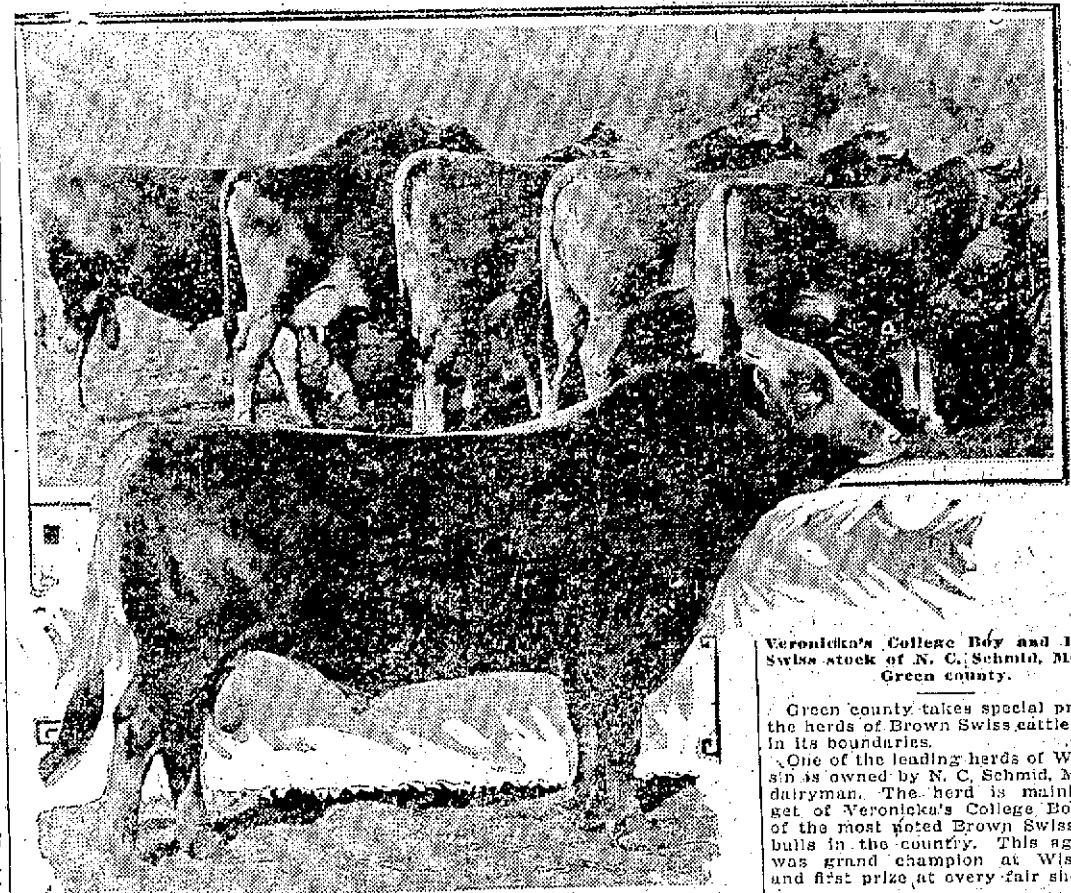

When honey is first gathered from the flowers it is almost as thin as water. The bees store it in their combs and fan it with their wings at night until more than half the water is evaporated. The ripening process takes more than a week. When it has finally become thick and thoroughly ripened, the bees "cap" it, or seal it over with an airtight coating of pure beeswax. It is then really finished and at its best.

In an effort to rush the work, many beekeepers extract their crop before the bees have completely ripened and capped the combs. The result is "green" honey, neither as rich nor thick nor as stable as honey that is left in the hive until the bees have finished it. Such honey will often ferment in the cans, and never has the finest flavor.

Beekeepers who aim to produce a fine article of honey never extract it from the combs until the bees have almost completely capped or "sealed" the contents. Honey so ripened will never ferment, or spoil, though it will granulate or "crystallize" in cold weather. It will keep for years, and be as good as when it was first extracted. If it has been placed in jars or cans and stored in a dry place.

Formerly Egypt was practically rainless. Now, owing to irrigation and consequent increase in vegetation, the annual cotton crop has risen yearly in the Nile delta.

WATCH BREEDING DATES ON CATTLE

Correct Freshening Helps Both in Sales and in the Show Ring.

BY JACK C. NISBET

Livestock breeders of dairy cattle should seriously consider the time of the year when they are going to breed their stock. Any breeder must concede that in the show ring size and age counts to a marked degree. A fresh cow, nicely uddered, tends to be outstanding. A springing two-year-old is in her best possible bloom.

A little careful planning with all things in view, may mean a much better showing in the county and breeder at some not far distant date. Haphazard breeding at any time of the year points to no future.

Whether a breeder plans on going into the show ring with his cattle or not it is advisable to take into consideration that the average cattle buyer of today wants his cattle sound and ready to breed. The age limits in dairy cattle for seniors is August 1, and for juniors February 1. Calves crowding these age limits will be the winners, all other points being equal.

If you have a prospective looking two-year-old, breed her to freshen about the second or third week in September. She then will be in full bloom for the fall show. The age limits in dairy cattle for seniors is August 1, and for juniors February 1. Calves crowding these age limits will be the winners, all other points being equal.

WATERTOWN PLANS FOR DAIRY DAY

Homestead Club Holds First National Celebration and Sale the Coming Week.

Watertown.—Dairymen of Wisconsin are taking a deep interest in Dairy Day to be held at Watertown next Tuesday, according to inquiries for information concerning the event received in large number.

The program as arranged provides for education, social and entertainment features. Many of the most prominent dairymen in the United States are to be present and some of these will be speakers in the afternoon at Riverside Park.

Dairy Day is being arranged under the auspices of the Homestead Club of America in connection with the first National Homestead Holstein sale which is to be held the following day. It is the first time in the history of the dairy world that the origin of a particular strain is to be celebrated with a national dairy event.

Homestead Cattle

The first event of Dairy Day will be the National Homestead Holstein show with cattle judging and demonstration work by Bob Hagman, one of the greatest dairy men in the country. The cattle judging which will take place at the sales pavilion at 10 o'clock. A dairy queen, selected by the vote of Wisconsin dairymen, is to be given a diamond ring and a crown of jewels will be placed upon her head by the mayor of Watertown, Herman Wertheimer. She is also to be given a key to the city. The queen will be named following the counting of votes which will begin at 9 o'clock.

BADGER JUDGING TEAMS PLACE 8TH AT DAIRY SHOW

Syracuse, N. Y.—Wisconsin's dairy cattle judging team, competing with thirty other teams from all parts of the United States and Canada, finished in eighth place, according to the final placings made by the judges at the National Dairy Exposition.

Wisconsin's northern neighbor, Minnesota, topped premier honors, while Kansas landed in second place. In the individual breed classes several Badgerites showed exceptional judging ability. Lester E. Caldwell, Dane county, Wisconsin, won third place in individual placing in the Jersey class, while Verlyn F. Sears, Clark county, Wisconsin, was awarded second high honors in that same class. Sears staged a comeback in the Ayrshire class and his work won him third place in the individual placing of the Ayrshire class. Other members of the Badger team were H. L. Becker, who was with the Rock county show herd, Trempealeau county, and Byron Hall, Wood county.

This is the first time in the history of the National Dairy Exposition that as many as thirty dairy school teams have been in competition in the dairy judging contest.

QUAKE AT HOME

JUNIOR CLUB STOCK SOLD AT PORTAGE

Portage.—An average of $105.86 was maintained when sixteen Holstein calves, the property of boys and girls of Columbia county, were disposed of at public auction at the Columbia County fair last week.

The club was organized by state leaders in Boys and Girls club work from the Wisconsin College of Agriculture last February. Columbia county bankers and the County Holstein Breeders Association made the club a possibility by selecting and financing the purchase of the calves for the youngsters. The Holstein breed association has been very active in helping the juniors to carry on their work over the past summer.

Top of the sale was received by Olin Noldhauser for his girl, Jeanne Bengervold De Kipl, Bogen, which placed second at the state fair and first in the open class at the Columbia county fair. The selling price was $385.

William Tonn received $240, second high, for his calf. Third high calf also sold for over $300. This was Charles "Rockstar" and she sold for $220. This calf was sixth at the state fair.

All told the junior population of Columbia county was $2,415 richer when the auctioneer's gavel fell on the last animal. Holstein breeders in the county furnished the calves for the youngsters. The "kids" for a maximum of $8 to the "kids" for any animal at the sale was $90.

The Trouble Shooter

Timely Tips for the Auto Owner.
By E. H. SCOTT.
Copyright 1923.

Take out the Spark Plugs from Nos. 1 and 3 cylinders and examine them. If the porcelains are white, or are a dry, clean reddish brown color, and the engine starts easily, you will be well advised to leave the carburetor adjustment alone; for the condition of the plugs is proof that the mixture is correct. If, on the other hand, the porcelains are covered with a black sooty looking deposit, it is a very good proof that the carburetor is in need of adjustment.

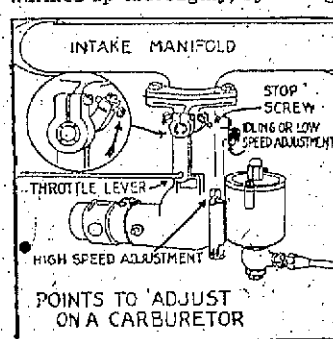

One of the secrets of getting long service from your car and small repair bills, is to know when adjustments are really required. Adjustments should NEVER be made until it is certain that they are necessary, and in connection with an automobile engine there are a few simple preliminary tests that can be made of nearly every part that will quickly prove if adjustment is necessary BEFORE you start altering anything. If, after taking out the Spark Plugs and examining them as shown above, you find they are covered with a black soot, the exhaust gases smell strongly of unburnt gasoline, then you KNOW POSITIVELY that your carburetor REQUIRES adjustment.

It is impossible, however, to adjust a carburetor properly, unless all other parts of the engine are in good condition, so first make sure that the Spark Plugs are clean, and all gaps set correctly; that the Battery is charged and the Contact Breaker points clean and properly adjusted, so that a good snappy spark occurs at the points of all plugs, and see that the valves are in good condition; then you are ready to tune up the Carburetor.

TESTING MANIFOLD FOR AIR LEAKAGE

First test the joints between the Carburetor and Intake Manifold, to see that they are all air tight. If air leaks through at these joints, it will be impossible to adjust the carburetor so that the engine will idle slowly and evenly, and will make the engine very difficult to start, especially during the cold weather. Test the joints by squirting some gasoline around them while the engine is running, noticing if it makes any difference to the speed of the engine when you do so.

On carburetors that have a fixed jet, such as the Zenith, the High Speed mixture can only be altered by fitting different sized jets, and this type of carburetor should always be tuned up by an experienced mechanic. On most carburetors, however, the mixture can be regulated by a needle valve or adjusting screw. Some carburetors have two adjustments; one for Low Speed and one for High Speed. Others have one adjustment for the Low Speed only, while still other carburetors have one adjustment only, which regulates the mixture for all speeds.

If there is a Low Speed adjustment, regulate it first. Fully retard fairly slowly, then turn the stop screw back in the Carburetor until you hear a pop back in the Carburetor and the engine runs evenly and smoothly. Now, fully retard the throttle lever, and the engine should turn over quite slowly and evenly, without stopping. If it runs too fast, or stops altogether when the throttle lever is closed, then the throttle arm on the carburetor will have to be adjusted by turning the stop screw on it in or out with a screw driver, until the engine runs at the desired idling speed.

Where there is an adjustment to regulate the mixture for High Speeds, or an adjustment which regulates the mixture at all speeds, place the Spark Lever about two-thirds of the way up on the steering wheel, then test the carburetor by opening the throttle quickly, and as far as possible, for JUST A SECOND. The engine should respond instantly, without a moment's hesitation. If it hesitates back in the carburetor, the mixture is too weak, and the adjusting screw should be turned out a fraction of a turn, to make the mixture a little richer. If, however, the engine speeds up, the mixture MAY be TOO RICH. To see whether this is so or not, turn in the gasoline adjusting screw a fraction of a turn at a time, and test again by opening the throttle quickly. Continue to turn in the adjusting screw, until the engine commences to pop back in the carburetor when the throttle is opened quickly, showing that the mixture is now a shade too weak, then turn the screw out to make the mixture a little richer, until you find a point where you can quickly open the throttle and there is no pop back in the carburetor, yet the engine accelerates instantly. Finally, give the engine a road test, to see that your power and pick-up is all right. The above adjustment will give you the greatest mileage on gasoline, but may cause the engine to pop back for a few minutes, when the engine is cold. This can be overcome, however, by the careful use of the choke, operated from the dash-board. As soon as the engine is warm, however, the choke must be pushed right in.

What the Churches Have Planned for the Coming Winter

Janesville churches are inaugurating fall programs to be carried out during the coming winter months. The ministerial changes are to be made. The Rev. R. G. Pierson will leave soon for his new charge and the United Brethren church is looking for a successor. The Rev. E. A. Gilliland began his work as pastor of the First Christian church in August.

The First Lutheran church has a new building and the hymn fund which funds are to be raised during the next few months. The two Catholic parishes have been called upon to raise substantial sums for building purposes. St. Patrick's congregation has been given a quota of $20,000 and St. Mary's congregation is asked to give $17,500.

No Action on School Work.
The movement for week-day religious education in connection with the high school has arrived at no definite end as yet. The request from joint committee representing all churches in the city, that a period be set aside by the school authorities for religious instruction to be provided by the different denominations, was presented to the board of education during the summer but no action has been reported to committee to date.

The formation of a young people's religious council as suggested by Dr. William A. McKeever in an address here in May will probably be effected in the near future, as the plan is regarded with favor by ministers and leaders of young people's work.

Four churches have motion picture projecting equipment and others are contemplating the purchase of projectors. St. Mary's and St. Patrick's parochial schools have projectors in the school halls. The First Baptist church is entering upon its fourth year with motion pictures as a regular Sunday night feature. The Carnegie M. E. church recently secured portable equipment for use in the parlors of the building. While motion pictures are not a regular feature of church services, they are utilized occasionally in connection with week-night affairs.

M. E. Church Plans.
Although nearly a year away from the important event of the calendar is the entertainment of the 1924 conference next September. The Ladies' Aid society is sponsoring a summer lecture course for coming season, and the Men's Brotherhood has outlined a program of monthly meetings that will bring a number of out-of-town speakers here. The St. Paul's church has a membership aim of 175 men. The Sunday school of this church has set as a goal for this year an average attendance of 600. The church is planning for the year is 900, which will require a net increase of less than 100, the membership being a little over 800 at present.

The Epworth league has a comprehensive program for the year, including Bible and mission study classes, dramatics, pageants, and social activities. Beginning Sunday, Oct. 7, the young people will meet at 5:30 for a social hour and fellowship supper to be followed by the regular Epworth league meeting. The Epworth league will inaugurate membership drives soon and hope to double their present membership.

The Congregational church will observe rally day Oct. 14. Lee R. Bennett has recently been elected Sunday school superintendent and will be inaugurated next year. The church is planning for the year has been resumed. A kindergarten will be conducted during the morning church service each Sunday for the enjoyment of the children. The mothers are in attendance at the church service. Mrs. A. C. Hough is general chairman of this work and will be assisted by the Epworth league. The Rev. Frank J. Sedgwick will go to Springfield, Mass., to attend the national council of Congregational churches, Oct. 16-22. Other plans for the year's work will be announced following his return from this convention.

United Brethren.
The United Brethren church has a live Sunday school and the young people are well organized in an active Christian Endeavor society. Church plans for the year have awaited the holding of the annual conference last week.

First Baptist Church.
The impending change of pastor has not deterred the members of the First Baptist church from carrying out a full calendar of activities. Church day will be observed on Thursday of each week with different groups meeting afternoons and evenings and coming together for supper Sunday night motion picture programs will be continued. Young people's organizations and women's societies have comprehensive plans for the year. Rally day was observed in the Sunday school Sept. 30, with an attendance of 300 present.

First Lutheran Church.
This church has an active men's brotherhood which will resume meetings this month, with special programs. The Young People's society meets every other Thursday night plans the discussion of live topics by members and invited speakers. The Luther League resumed its weekly meetings Sunday evening Oct. 7. Books of the Old Testament will be studied. The Sunday school has kindergarten and junior department classes, and senior classes in church history and doctrinal differences. A class will soon be organized for the study of missions. The Ladies' Aid society is active in raising money for the new church building.

St. John's Church.
The Ladies' Aid society plan to raise about $1,500 to defray the cost of redecorating the church and making other repairs. The society will hold its annual sale early so as to allow time afterward to rehearse a play which will be staged by the Christian Endeavor society and boys' orchestra will have rehearsals once a week. Bible classes will begin when the work of redecorating and other improvements are completed. The class for confirmation meets twice a week after school and an adult class meets once a week. A young women's club meets twice a month to serve for orphans. One of the members reads aloud while the others sing.

St. Peter's Church.
Pastor J. C. Miller has 62 students enrolled in two Bible history classes and 17 enrolled in the confirmation class. The Young People's society plan to give an entertainment soon to raise funds for the installation of additional electric lights in the church building. A junior choir of 25 voices is being trained by Misses Clara and Pauline Olson to sing at church services. The senior choir will give a special service of music in November under the direction of Mrs. Lowell Therman. This Sunday school will gather funds during

ENGLAND'S WORRIES OVER BIRTHRATE

Future Depends on Building Up Population, Belief of Press.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

London — England's declining birth-rate is giving the authorities cause for concern. For the three months ended in June the birth-rate per 1,000 of population in England and Wales was only 26.7. The register general says that "this is the lowest birth-rate recorded in any second quarter of the year, except during the period of the war." In 1913 it was 24.3, in 1914 24.5, in 1920 26.8, in 1921 23.9 and in 1922 21.1. In the second quarter of 1923 it fell to 20.7, which is a drop of nearly 20 per cent in three years.

"If the birth-rate continues to fall at this headlong rate," observes the Daily Express, "Britain's very existence as a nation is menaced." The paper asks what the chief causes of the slump in babies is, and gives the answer itself by saying: "First, unemployment, and second, shortage of houses. The workless man can not afford to marry." It says, "and the homeless man dare not marry."

Therefore, in order to arrest the fall of the birth-rate, must solve our unemployment problem, and our housing problem. It is necessary to face the facts, the Express adds, and to see that the Empire would cease to exist. Every child born in these islands is a potential producer of wealth. If our population falls, our resources will decline and fall like Rome. The empire has been built up on emigration from the mother country to the daughter countries, and the new lands have drawn their new blood from the old stock in the motherland. It is our duty to look a generation ahead, so that in 1943 the new lands will have young men and young women flowing from the old home land to the new lands."

PLAN MONUMENT FOR PARENTS OF LINCOLN
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Janesville, Wis.—After years of neglect, the graves of Thomas and Nancy Lincoln, father and stepmother of Abraham Lincoln, are to be given attention. These unkempt mounds, in a nearby desolate graveyard, are marked only by unheeded stones made rough by tourists who have chipped souvenirs from them.

The Illinois district of the Lions International has undertaken to raise funds among its members to erect a fitting monument at the graves. The Illinois district of the Lions International has undertaken to raise funds among its members to erect a fitting monument at the graves.

Entertain

own home

This Bungalow Home of brick construction presents many unique and distinctive features, all of which add to its attractiveness, making appeals for its adoption. The header course of brick running entirely around the home at floor line breaks the plain wall and is very effective. A header course of brick is also designed under windows, chimney and porch eappings.

The interior arrangement is clearly shown in the alternate floor plans featured. It isn't necessary to cover these in detail; however, a careful study will convey many features not usually found in homes this size, all of which make strong appeals to those who are seeking maximum conveniences combined with attractiveness at minimum cost.

The Home Building Editor will gladly advise with you regarding plans or any additional information you may be desirous of obtaining—mail letter care this paper.

In Your Own Home with its cheery atmosphere, comfort and ideal arrangements for entertaining friends, is where life's sweetest hours are cherished and where grateful men and women are thankful for the privilege and opportunities that make it a World of Its Own.

It is in your own home, if careful attention has been exercised in the planning and modern conveniences are incorporated, that we receive our greatest enjoyment. The young folks and you fathers and mothers will find at home the pleasures, happiness and enjoyment that have failed to impress you in public resorts.

Ideal homes have a dominating influence. Their environments mould the characters of those who come to appreciate the real worth of home life. Homes make individuals bigger and better and hearts kinder and more thoughtful, closely uniting family ties, and, when we compare timely outside pleasures with the truly wonderful possibilities of congenial enjoyment in our own homes, no man or father can be happy and contented until he has fulfilled this, the greatest of moral obligations—The Ownership of a Home.

Too much cannot be said in favor of ideal, conveniently arranged homes, for the possession of that which stands as man's greatest achievement, reflecting his thoughts, desires and ambitions for those most near and dear to him, is an accomplishment worthy the highest praise, love, devotion and respect that wife and children can bestow, and their gratefulness will recompense you fully for your efforts.

Now, look again at the illustration and visualize this merriment and spacious arrangement as a part of your future home. Don't the thoughts in themselves gives you sufficient inspiration to start immediately planning a home for just such an occasion? No sacrifice is too great, no investment too large, no effort more worth while than those you embody in your future home.
